Truman Signs 75 Cent Minimum Wage Bill

Hails It As Victory For Demo Party

Washington, Oct. 26—(AP)—Hailing it as a "major victory" for his administration, President Truman today signed the bill increasing the national minimum wage from 40 cents to 75 cents an hour.

The new minimum—expected to cost employers about $300,000,000 annually—does not go into effect, however, until 90 days from now. At that time an estimated 1,500,000 workers are due to have from five to 15 cents added to their hourly earnings.

Government officials said the pay raise in most cases will not exceed 15 cents, since they said most workers now are receiving more than the old 40 cents an hour minimum.

Changes Old Law
The new Fair Labor Standards Act, which was adopted just 11 years ago last Monday.

Besides raising the pay "floor" for workers engaged in interstate commerce, among other things it tightens the ban against use of child labor and gives added enforcement powers to the wage-hour administrator.

Mr. Truman expressed "regret" that the new version will take some of the 22,600,000 persons now covered off the lists. But he said "the improvements made by the new law will go far toward achieving our basic purpose of assuring minimum labor standards necessary for health, efficiency and general well-being of workers."

Child Labor Tightened
Among the "improvements" he cited the following:

1. Tightening of the child labor clause which he said should result "in the virtual elimination of the evil child labor from our interstate and foreign trade and industry."

2. A provision authorizing the wage-hour administrator's suit on behalf of a worker for unpaid back wages. Mr. Truman said this "should greatly improve the effective enforcement of the law."

3. A "comprehensive" formula for determining a work's regular pay rates which also will be used in figuring the amount of overtime due him when working over 40 hours a week.

In his statement, Mr. Truman summed up the new legislation as a "major victory in our fight to promote the general welfare of the people of the United States."

Murray Asks That NLRB Leader Be Fired By Truman

Cleveland, Oct. 26—(AP)—CIO President Philip Murray today asked President Truman to fire Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board.

Murray accused Denham of favoring employers and chasing down "frivolous and unfounded charges" by plant owners.

In Washington Denham said he had no comment in reply.

The CIO chief, in a pre-convention blast at the principal enforcement officer of the NLRB, said Denham had used "his injunctive powers in a reckless and venal manner in order to suppress legitimate strikes and other concerted activities of unions."

"Our request for Denham's removal is based upon his record. This record cannot be defended on the grounds that he is fairly administering a law distasteful to labor. On the contrary, Dr. Denham has been guilty of attempting to distort this law even beyond its harsh terms."

Baden-Baden, Germany, Oct. 26—(AP)—Field Marshal Friedrich Von Paulus, famed German commander who surrendered at Stalingrad, advised his family today he is coming home from a Russian prison camp in December.

His widowed daughter, Mrs. Olga Von Kutenbach, told a newsmen a postcard mailed on Von Paulus' 59th birthday, Sept. 23, told of the expected release.

Paulus, who six years ago surrendered the remnants of an army of 330,000 men to the Russians, said in his note that he was in good health and had been well treated.

Hoffman Tells Europe To Hasten Recovery

Washington, Oct. 26—(AP)—Paul G. Hoffman left Washington today with a grave message for Europe: Unless united and drastic recovery efforts are made, a dissatisfied Congress may refuse to vote next year's Marshall plan bill.

Senator Connally (D-Tex.), chairman of the foreign relations committee, demonstrated Congress' mood. He forecast that European recovery funds will be cut by at least $1,000,000,000 next year.

"Europe must work out her own destiny," Connally told a reporter. "We can't carry indefinitely such a heavy burden of financial help."

Economic Cooperation Administrator Hoffman conferred with President Truman before leaving the capital for Montreal to deliver a speech before flying to Paris.

At the White House he told reporters that ECA would like to see the Marshall plan nations "go further and faster than they have gone" in striking down trade barriers.

Mr. Truman gave him a message:

FEW BEGINS TO COUNT VOTES ON UE MERGER

Chicago, Oct. 26—(AP)—Officials of the CIO United Farm Equipment workers today began counting union members' votes on a proposal to merge with the CIO United Electrical Workers union.

Results of the national tabulation may not be announced for several days, UFEW headquarters said. Officers could not be reached.

The two left-wing CIO unions have been critical of the CIO leadership for Philip Murray, CIO president. The deadline for postmarking of member ballots on the merger plan was noon today.

Victim Of Hooded Gang Identifies 1 As Deputy Sheriff

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 26—(AP)—An attractive woman victim of hooded hoodlums today identified Coleman A. "Brownie" Lollar, former special deputy sheriff, as one of the masked men who raided her home last June 10.

The witness was Mrs. Edna McDonald, 42-year-old grandmother whose home was broken into by robbers who forced her to watch a cross burning on her lawn.

Lollar is charged with flogging while masked in the McDonald case. That offense is punishable by imprisonment from one to 10 years. He also is charged with the same offense in four other cases, and with first degree burglary.

The burglary indictment is based on charges of breaking and entering an occupied dwelling at night. It is a capital charge under Alabama law.

Aurora AFL Truck Drivers Walk Out In Wage Dispute

Aurora, Ill., Oct. 26—(AP)—Some 350 AFL truck drivers were idle today in Aurora, Elgin and nearby Fox river valley towns in a wage dispute.

Yesterday the Aurora Local 423 of the International Association of Teamsters, Sales Drivers and Helpers, struck the Dumont Cartage Co., Aurora, Local 330 called a walkout at the Elgin Storage and Transfer Co.

Today, virtually all trucking firms in the area suspended business. Laurence A. Fleming, chairman of the negotiating committee for the Aurora Truck Owners' Association, said the companies were waiting for the "unsettled labor situation and the threat of a general strike" in the business to clear up.

The two locals have been in negotiations with the Aurora truckers group and the Elgin Truck Owners' Association since before their contracts expired Oct. 1. The union is demanding a boost of 12 cents an hour above the present drivers' rate of $1.38 an hour, and seven cents more for helpers and deck workers who now get $1.29.

Tito Says Yugo Will Fight To Prevent Subjugation

Belgrade, Oct. 26—(AP)—Premier Marshal Tito said today "we shall fight and we shall fight enduringly" to prevent Yugoslavia's subjugation by Russia.

Tito spoke before a group of Italians who fought with this country's partisans during the war and who are now here on an inspection tour.

He made it clear that Yugoslavia will not bend in the struggle that began 19 months ago when the Soviet-led Cominform denounced the trend of its eastern European him and his government for pursuing a nationalistic policy.

He said Yugoslavia was aware of neighbors—all communist states like Yugoslavia—before a campaign that included political and economic pressure was launched against this country.

"We were embittered in the beginning for we saw with whom we were fighting," he said.

The bitterness of the feeling between Yugoslavia and Russia was shown earlier today when Russia demanded recall of the Yugoslav ambassador in Moscow. Russia accused him of being a spy.

Tito told the Italians: "We know that in this struggle we are fighting for a great and just cause that will have tremendous historical significance for the future, and that this is the true, correct relationship among socialist states."

He acknowledged frankly that Yugoslavia's own struggle will make no difference in the way of life within the Soviet Union itself.

"Socialism in the Soviet Union will not fail because of this," he said. "It is a reality in the Soviet Union. We know that. But we also know that today the leadership in the U.S.S.R. does not have the right point of view on the future development of socialism in the other countries of the world."

Orders Expenses Cut
Chicago, Oct. 26—(AP)—The Illinois liquor control commission today ordered its inspectors to cut their travel expenses by 40 per cent, in response to economy demands by Governor Stevenson.

The commission said no job vacancies will be filled and five clerks and three investigators will be dismissed to save $20,000 a year.

Russians Blamed For Atom Deadlock By Other Powers

Lake Success, Oct. 26—(AP)—Four of the Big Five powers and Canada today blamed Russia alone for the continuing east-west deadlock on atomic energy control.

Russia told the United Nations assembly the main block to agreement is "Russia's position that her own national sovereignty comes before world security."

It was disclosed that Russia has refused to say anything in secret United Nations talks about the recent atomic explosion in the Soviet Union.

The United States, Britain, France, China and Canada told the assembly that the Soviet Union did not budge one inch in 11 conferences: that the majority powers stand firmly on their plan for control of atomic energy; and that the talks will continue among the six countries.

30-Man Posse Fails To Catch Phantom Of Silver Creek

Allegan, Mich., Oct. 26—(AP)—A 30-man posse tramped through densely wooded hills country today in search of the fleet-footed Phantom of Silver Creek.

Sheriff Louis A. Johnson said they did not find a sign of the elusive night prowler.

"The dog barked a couple of times but mostly for encouragement," Johnson said.

Many have believed that the prowler, who has terrorized this area for almost a week, might be living in the wild two-square-mile section back of Silver Creek.

Sheriff Johnson said there would be no more possses—at least for the present. He had another plan in mind, he said, refusing to reveal it now.

So farmers and villagers settled down for another night of guarded waiting in their homes. Especially watchful was Mrs. Clifford Doney who saw the phantom again last night, she said—for the fifth time.

New Price Record For 1949 Paid For Load Of Steers

Chicago, Oct. 26—(AP)—One load of prime steers brought a new 1949 price record in a cattle market where prices moved in both directions today.

The top was $41.30 a hundred pounds, up $1.50 from yesterday and only 10 cents under the all time peak made in September, 1948.

Steers grading medium, good and low choice, which comprised the bulk of offerings, sold steady to 50 cents lower than yesterday. The result was that the price spread between the top and bottom of the market was the widest on record.

An acute, seasonal scarcity of long-fed prime steers was given as the reason for the sharp price advance on these offerings. There is no such similar scarcity for average grades, according to trade circles.

ENCOURAGES WINDOW PAINTING IN BENSON
Benson, Ill., Oct. 26—(AP)—Local youngsters are being encouraged to paint mischievous inscriptions in to talented lines this Halloween.

The idea is to use paint brushes—in artistic fashion—instead of the traditional soap bars on store windows. The Civic club is giving prizes in a contest to pick the best paintings of goblins, witches, cats, pumpkins or other Halloween trappings.

White House Reports On Strikes Differ

Eight Armed Convicts Escape Delaware Jail

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 26—(AP)—Eight convicts armed with guns escaped tonight from the New Castle county workhouse three miles south of here.

State police described the men as dangerous and threw up road blocks on every street and highway leading in and out of Wilmington.

The prisoners, one of them a life-terminer on a murder charge, are believed to have split up after they made their break, police said.

Two of them went to the home of J. L. Elliott, a stationery store clerk, who lives just two blocks from the prison.

Elliott said they forced him into about a block away then the one at gun's point, drove a block from his home and told him to "get out," and they told me to "get out."

He told this story to a reporter: "One of them came to the door in the car."

Says British Must Make More Cripps Says That Is Necessary For Survival

London, Oct. 26—(AP)—Britain's economic boss told the nation today it must make more goods at once and sell them to Americans or else "our civilization itself must fade and wither away."

Sir Stafford Cripps' austere face was red and he was moved almost to tears as he laid this grim work-or-die ultimatum before the country at the end of an hour and a quarter address in the House of Commons.

Calls For Confidence Vote
He called for a vote of confidence in the labor government in support of its economy program to be $280,000,000 ($784,000,000) off government spending and $400,000,000 off dollar imports.

But dapper, graying Anthony Eden, deputy leader of the conservatives, immediately raked the chancellor of the exchequer's speech as mere "pious exhortations."

The economist himself, he said, is "still sketchy and indefinite" and "another crisis is not many months away."

Conservative leader Winston Churchill, at a party rally tonight, again called for "real economy" and election of a new parliament.

He described the debate as "the funeral preparations of the socialist government."

'Deathbed Repentances'
Churchill called the government's plans "deathbed repentances . . . measures of the pinpricking type, none of them capable—nor all of them together—of dealing with the difficulties brought forward and presented to us."

Conservatives, liberals and leftist laborites all have attacked the program as "too little and too late." They have put in motions of no confidence in the government. These will be voted on Thursday at the end of the two-day debate.

Sir Stafford disclosed that the program will lop off the payrolls 1,000 civil servants from a total of more than 1,000,000.

The armed forces will be 20,000 below the 750,000 set as a goal for next April.

2 Subs To Launch 7-Ton Missiles Off Hawaii November 7

Pearl Harbor, Oct. 26—(AP)—The Navy announced today that two submarines will launch seven-ton guided missiles off Hawaii Nov. 7 to show they can deliver the atomic bomb if war comes.

Pacific fleet headquarters disclosed that submarines in the current war games in Hawaiian waters already had shown they can carry these huge, long-range weapons undersea operations.

Commander John S. McCain, officer of submarine guided missile development, said the demonstration will be "a very significant step in the exploitation of sea power."

"The submarine, with guided missiles, has become a siege bombardment weapon and can be used to deliver atom bombs," he observed.

"The whole idea of using submarines to launch guided missiles is a long step toward push button warfare."

Experimental and training operations have been conducted for more than three years off Point Mugu, near San Diego.

DAUGHTERS HAVE DAUGHTERS
Peoria, Ill., Oct. 26—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Naas got good news today—twice.

A daughter in Chicago, Mrs. Marie Cook, gave birth to a baby girl.

A daughter in Fort Worth, Texas, Mrs. Betty Baughman, followed suit.

Split On Truman's Plans

By The Associated Press
Conflicting reports that President Truman has and has not decided to take a hand in the coal and steel strikes if they are not settled by the end of the week came tonight from the capital.

Cabinet officers who declined to be identified by name said Mr. Truman had decided to intervene.

Later a White House official, an adviser on administration policy in the labor crisis, said no deadline had been set by the president.

"Evidently the gentlemen misunderstood the president because I talked to Mr. Truman a half hour later and found out he hasn't made any decision to intervene, or fixed any deadline," the White House source said.

The official, in touch with the White House but declining to be further identified, did not say what form of intervention was in mind. But he indicated it would not be a Taft-Hartley act injunction.

Seizure Is Possibility
Seizure is a legal possibility under the draft law. This law applies to any industry which fails to meet government orders for materials.

The official said the pressure for some sort of action "is getting terrific and is increasing steadily." He said the strikes were "getting out of hand and playing havoc with the economy."

The White House said previously that Mr. Truman was not inclined now to step into the situation.

Both disputes are deadlocked. The steel industry has not met with the CIO United Steelworkers union since 450,000 of its members struck Oct. 1. Negotiations between United Mine workers and five-sixths of the nation's soft coal industry have collapsed.

Peace Talks Alive
Peace talks with the Southern Coal Producers association, representing one-sixth of the industry, are still alive but in recess until next Tuesday. The disputants got nowhere Wednesday after a 90-minute session at Bluefield, W. Va.

The twin strikes have hit the nation's economy a hard blow.

Pressure began building up within the steel industry, meanwhile, for new company-union peace talks. This pressure came from both big and small segments of the industry.

A half dozen small Pittsburgh district companies urged recall of the steel industry's fact finding board, a representative of one of them.

William H. Colvin, Jr., president of Crucible Steel Company of America, telegraphed the suggestion to Mediation Chief Cyrus S. Ching.

Colvin said the board had recommended "good faith individual collective bargaining" and he thinks it should clarify that point.

The fact-finders urged that industry and the union agree on pensions and insurance costing employers 10 cents a man hour. The union accepted the report but the big steel companies insisted the union foot part or all of the bill of any welfare program.

Yugoslav Opera Singer Laughs Off Russ Spy Charge

Belgrade, Oct. 26—(AP)—Plump and pretty Zinka Kunc, Yugoslav opera singer, tonight laughed off a Russian charge that she is an American spy.

This was the former Metropolitan opera singer's comment by telephone on the charge as it appeared in the Moscow literary gazette:

"It's just silly."

The literary gazette also said she is often seen in the company of Premier Marshal Tito, that he has showered her with diamonds, and Dye, of Akron, Ohio, when Dye plunged past him with his own chute partly collapsed yesterday.

Smith grabbed the shroud lines of the falling paratrooper's chute and hung on grimly while they rode to the ground.

"We hit like the proverbial bucket of lard," Smith said today. Both soldiers were jarred, but not injured.

Lt. Robert Smith, the sergeant's commanding officer, has recommended award of an appropriate medal to the World War II veteran for saving a life.

"I hope the deal doesn't go through," Sgt. Smith commented. "Too many old jumpers are laughing up their sleeves right now."

Smith has made 73 parachute leaps, including two combat jumps in Europe.

DIMINISHED IRON ORE SOURCES
CAUSE U. S. EXPERTS WORRY

The United States is a nation built upon steel. And most Americans probably don't give too much thought to the problem of where the steel comes from. They assume that because the supply has been ample up to now, it always will be.

The truth is that our reserves of high-grade iron ore, from which steel is made, are seriously depleted. Some steel firms face a shortage of raw material within a few years. The most fortunate can see stocks lasting no more than 20 to 25 years.

Since before the turn of the century, this country has had an amazingly cheap source of iron ore: the famed Mesabi Range in Minnesota. Here high-grade ore has been mined in open pits by the simple steam shovel method. From these pits came the material that carried America and its allies through two world wars.

But while the second great conflict was in progress, a steel man said: "This is the last war that will be fought off the Mesabi." In other words, the reserves were eaten away so badly by our huge armaments program that they would play out if forced to supply the sinews of another war.

This realization is food for sober thinking. The dwindling of our top-grade ore stocks means this: Either we must find new sources of supply or we must see one of the stoutest props of our economic strength knocked out from under us.

There are two main possibilities before the nation. One is to turn to foreign sources. Fabulous undeveloped reserves of iron ore exist in Brazil and Labrador, and Venezuela is a secondary prospect.

The other course is to dip into America's own vast holdings of low-grade ore—a material hitherto largely untouched because of the high cost of mining it. Heavy investments of new plants would be needed to concentrate low-grade ore sufficiently for commercial purposes.

Some eastern mills already rely on Venezuelan sources. And development work is now going forward in Labrador on a considerable scale.

But American steel companies are understandably reluctant to plan a wholesale switch to foreign ores. The problems are many: keeping friendly political relations with the supplying country, protection of the raw material pipeline in case of war, possible costly shift of plants from present inland centers to coastal cities to reduce overland transportation costs.

Experimental plant operations with low-grade ore have thus been undertaken in the hope the domestic alternative will offer a better, safer answer. And now a mining company has taken the first step toward more ambitious production of commercial concentrates from low-quality sources.

The move looks wise and it is to be hoped that other big firms follow suit. Even though the domestic development of new supplies might prove costlier than reliance on foreign ores, it would be worth the expense if we thereby avoided grave new political and military difficulties.

Amvet National Membership Goal
Set At 500,000

A goal of 500,000 Amvets in 1950 has been set up by National Commander Harold Russell, the handless war veteran of motion picture fame. It was announced by Commander L. S. Ruby at a meeting of the local post Tuesday night. Ruby said the Jacksonville post will cooperate in the membership campaign, and that addition of 200 new members probably would result in a visit from the national commander.

John P. Beadles, senior vice commander, made announcements concerning the membership drive now in progress. Ross Cox, service and child welfare officer, submitted a report on child welfare service now being carried on by the Amvets.

Post members voted to hold another stag fish fry with Nov. 18 as the tentative date. A committee consisting of Robert Hoffman, chairman; Ralph Johnson, Basil Ketner, Harold Myers and Albert Swagmeier, was appointed to take charge.

Plans for a Halloween social Saturday night of this week at the post club rooms were outlined by Darrell Berline, committee chairman. The event will be in the form of a party-dance, cabaret style, for members and guests only. Dancing will be enjoyed from 9:30 to 12:30 o'clock.

Merle Dewese was appointed chairman of a special activity committee to look into the possibilities for sponsoring a radio talent show. Report of play in the two league shuffleboard tournament was given by C. P. Siegfried, who said that 16 Amvets are participating.

Nominations for officers for the coming year will be made at the next regular meeting.

A social hour was spent jointly with the Auxiliary, during which a novelty boxing bout between Basil Ketner and Albert Swagmeier, furnished amusement. Ketner, height 60 inches and weighing 127 pounds, stood on a barrel, while Swagmeier, height 76 inches and weighing 225 pounds, stood in a barrel. Referee Marion Woods declared the bout a draw.

The contestants were "examined" by Ross Cox and L. S. Ruby served as timekeeper. The boxers were seconded by C. P. Siegfried and John Carrigan.

At the conclusion of the program refreshments of sandwiches and coffee were served. Committees arranging for the homecoming are from Student Council, Dick Gibson, George Souza, Sharon Ludwig, Marilyn Lacy, Walter Diecamp, Mary Settles, Joan Powell.

WHO OWNS THIS?

Sheriff Ralph B. Bourn and his deputies are hoping this photograph will help them in their search to establish the ownership of the heavy, edged mail. It has been determined that this tool, found in the upstairs hallway of the V.F.W. Home, was brought there by the burglar who fled the building Sunday night after he was wounded in a gun battle with Custodian Clarence Day.

The hatchet-like head weighs about five pounds and the handle is 21 inches long. It is being protected for fingerprints.

The sheriff's office feels that the burglar was the same man who invaded the home on Oct. 2. At that time he gained entrance through an upstairs window, while Mr. Day was absent.

He ransacked the place, broke open the juke box and stole $1.58 in pennies out of the cash register. Four rooms leased by an army reserve unit were entered with considerable damage to the four doors. At that time, apparently, the burglar had considerable trouble forcing open the locked doors.

Officers believe that when the burglar returned Sunday night he came equipped to make short work of any locked doors. He went directly to the bedroom, they surmise, to learn if the custodian was there.

Any person who feels he might be able to help establish the ownership of the mail is urged by Sheriff Bourn to come to the county jail and inspect it.

Co. Grand Jury

Carrollton—Five indictments were brought by the grand jury which was in session Monday in Greene county court house. The five indicted are Kenneth E. Fry and Harold Kessinger, charged with burglary; Virgil Leo Holder, charged with forgery on two counts; Leval Bowns, charged with forgery, and Dudley Weston and Ernest Snyder, charged with stealing a motor vehicle.

Fry and Kessinger were arrested following the theft of articles from a barn rented by W. E. Hummcutt and born Hummcutt. During the alleged theft on the night of July 22, the men attempted to steal gasoline and in so doing the barn caught fire and was destroyed, as was a shed and the contents of both. As neither had an attorney the court appointed L. K. Hubbard of White Hall and Jack Alfred of this city to represent them. Bail was fixed in the sum of $2,000. Fry was released but Kessinger remains in custody.

Greenfield Man Accused
Virgil Leo Holder of Greenfield was indicted on two forgery counts, both occurring Aug. 8. Holder is charged with cashing two checks, one for $37.50 and the other for $45, each with the forged signature of Darrell Cole of Greenfield, drawn on the Farmers State bank of Greenfield. Holder is out on bail of $1,500.

Loyal Bowns, who is now held by the South Dakota authorities on another charge, was indicted for the alleged forging of the name of R. L. Hemmrough on a $25 check drawn on the Roodhouse National bank and cashed by Stanley Thomas. Bowns' bail is $1,500.

The fifth indictment was brought against Dudley Weston and Ernest Snyder who are now in charge of Denver, Colo., authorities and who were indicted here for the theft of an International truck from Glenn Seely, which they used in their break from the Greene county jail prior to the stealing of the truck on Sept. 12.

The two men, who were wanted by Denver authorities on a charge of armed robbery, had been picked up by the local authorities and were in the county jail for a few days before breaking out in company with Harold Kessinger. The three were returned to jail when found in the Hillview vicinity after a manhunt which lasted several days. Bail for two was set at $1,500.

New York Civic Opera Co. Will Be Here Nov. 21

The New York Civic Opera Company will present a performance of "Carmen" at the Illinois School for the Deaf auditorium on the evening of Nov. 21, under auspices of the Jacksonville Optimist club.

The opera company, with a cast of 65 persons, booked the Jacksonville appearance between engagements in Bloomington and Columbia, Mo.

Members of the Optimist club at a meeting Tuesday night at Hamilton's cafe made preliminary arrangements for the opera performance. Ticket sales will be handled in a downtown location and by mail.

Rev. C. Frank Janssen, club president, will appoint club committees to prepare for the event, which is expected to attract music patrons from many communities.

The program at the Optimist meeting Tuesday evening consisted of the showing of colored moving pictures by O. A. Schuette, taken during a trip to Canada and Alaska last July and August. The Jacksonville party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Schuette and Dr. and Mrs. Marion Summers.

Mr. Schuette made a film record of their trip from the time they left the United States, bringing back several hundred feet of movies taken in the Canadian provinces, as they traveled along the coast by boat, and in Alaskan towns.

Clubmen were particularly interested in scenes of Anchorage, a city of 30,000 which has only one paved street, eight blocks in length. Other streets are constructed of gravel, but the business section has a large area equipped with modern parking meters.

Field On River Bluff Yields Indian Relics

Disabilities Won't Interfere With Vets' Insurance

Disabilities attributable to war service will not be counted against World War II veterans who reinstate their National Service Life Insurance on or before Dec. 31, 1949, the Illinois Veterans commission announced Wednesday.

Regulations governing service life insurance require veterans to pass a physical examination satisfactorily to qualify for government insurance.

In many instances service-incurred disabilities could bar a veteran from obtaining insurance. This limited privilege now opens the door wide to thousands of veterans who have not applied because of the possibility of having service-incurred disabilities keep them from obtaining insurance.

Veterans of World War II who saw more than 30 days active war service between October 8, 1940, and September 2, 1945, are eligible to apply either for reinstatement or new insurance in the event they did not have Service Life Insurance.

In making application the veteran must pay two months' premiums. The time and place of a physical examination will be determined later. Veterans also have the choice of any one of seven plans along with selection of insurance in any amount from $1,000 to $10,000 in multiples of $500.

Service officers of the Illinois Veterans commission can advise and assist veterans with their insurance problems.

In Morgan and Scott counties, veterans can receive service at the IVG office located at 6-7 Morrison Block in Jacksonville or on Wednesday in the Court House in Winchester.

The location of an ancient Indian burial ground from which a large carved pipe and other articles have been excavated, has been identified by University archeologists as the Robert Poole farm in Pike county, across the river from Meredosia.

The old burial mound is now a corn field, a forest-circled, level area on a bluff about a mile from the Illinois river. It is reported that the site was first discovered by W. L. Wadlow of Dow, Ill., an amateur archeologist, who brought it to attention of Prof. John C. McGregor of the state university.

The carved pipe is one of several hundred articles found on a recent investigation of the site. Hundreds of broken pieces of pottery were unearthed, almost all with decorative patterns formed into the surface. Stone knives were found in abundance, with chipped edges still very sharp; spearheads, bone awls, other tools and a few ornaments.

Especially interesting to Prof. McGregor and his associates is a quantity of burned clay, apparently from the destruction of an Indian home.

This may lead to finding the exact site of the Hopewell house. The university plans to carry on further research in the area.

Articles found in the mound are believed to have belonged to the Hopewells, or mound builders, who lived in the Illinois valley and Great Lakes region about 800 years ago. Only two or three Hopewell village sites are known.

With Prof. McGregor on a recent trip to the Poole farm were two graduate students, J. Epstein of New York City, and E. A. Stewart of St. Petersburg, Fla., and two seniors, W. J. Beeson of Paris, Ill., and D. A. Cohen of Chicago.

War Orphans To Be Assisted By Tag Day Funds

More than 30 children in Morgan county who were made orphans by World War II will benefit from funds raised during Gold Star Tag Day next Saturday, Oct. 29. Tag day activities will be in charge of the American War Dads and War Moms.

Thirty women and girls have volunteered to spend the day in the business district, receiving funds contributed by the public. Each worker will be equipped with a jar for contributions.

The success of the tag day will provide a happy Christmas time for war-orphaned children and will assist toward their future education.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Now They're Sitting Pretty

Squint Miller, who's working as a telephone lineman, was telling me about some birds that got into a fight with his company.

Seems a couple of woodpeckers set up housekeeping in a telephone pole. Nobody minded them living there, but they kept pecking at the wires—causing one short circuit after another.

Finally, the telephone people—who had nothing personal against the birds—just stopped up the hole where they lived. But they kept coming back. At last, the company donated that pole to the woodpeckers and set up a brand-new one for their own use!

From where I sit, we'd all be better off if we were as tolerant with our own kind as that telephone outfit was with the woodpeckers. Let's consider the other fellow's point of view—whether it's his right to live where he wants, or to enjoy a friendly glass of temperate beer or ale when and if he pleases.

The reason sound makes less progress when traveling through seawater than through fresh water is thought to be due to slight amounts of magnesium sulfate in the salt water. This chemical seems to have unusual sound-absorbing ability.

European Tour Described In Talk For Tuesday Club

Dr. Freida Gamper of the MacMurray college faculty was the speaker for Tuesday night's guest day observance held Tuesday afternoon in Ann Rutledge hall.

Dr. Gamper spoke on her trip to Europe last summer, when she visited her native land of Switzerland. She described the war's destruction in London and commented on the courtesy shown her there, as a gesture of appreciation for the aid sent to England by the United States.

The speaker explained the organization and purpose of the schools for orphan children in Switzerland. Geneva, she said, was known for its homes, beautiful in architectural design and representing strength and solidarity.

Her description of her visit to a session of the League of Nations was most interesting. She also told of her visit to Italy, mentioning points of interest in Genoa, Capri, Rome, Florence and Venice, and showed pictures of the cities which she visited.

Preceding Dr. Gamper's talk, Mrs. E. C. Bone presented a group of piano selections, including two preludes and "Militaire Polonaise" by Chopin and "Malaguena" by Lecuona.

Refreshments were served from a table attractively decorated in a fall motif. Mrs. T. O. Hardesty and Mrs. Howard Stevenson presided.

The committee in charge of the program and refreshments was comprised of Mrs. Harry Kitter, Mrs. Alfred Henderson and Mrs. J. D. Bunting.

Hostesses were Mrs. Charles Gibson, Mrs. Bryce Wall, Mrs. L. P. Hauck and Mrs. Dallas Hagan.

Hopper and Hamm, Inc.

New York—(AP)—Lady, say it isn't so. Please say it isn't so, lady.

Say it isn't true—this report that female fashions are going back to the 1920's for inspiration.

Don't trade the "new look" for the "gunnysack look." I'll admit there was a lot of foolish male yammering against the "new look" a couple of seasons back just because it was novel. Every man was surprised to see it turn out better than he had feared.

Go back to the fig leaf of Eve or the bustle of Victoria's day. Wear anything ever tried in the long former history of woman's struggle for style—anything but what you clothed yourself in during the mad, bad 1920's.

They call that the period of "the lost generation" and blame it on the disillusionment of the first world war. But it wasn't the men who were lost; it was the women. It was the time when girls would be boys.

Remember? If you don't, get out the family album and take a look. I know some families that keep their album on a high shelf for fear the children will turn to the pages pasted in during the 1920's—and be frightened into fits.

Remember now? Remember how the girls drove men out of their last refuge—the barbershop—to get those close-cropped boyish bobs. Remember the short, shapeless dresses, the hats that fitted like a shield?

It was the fond ambition of every fashionable lass then to look like a soda straw, but natural feminine architecture too often decreed that the result would resemble a gunnysack full of sugar on stilts—or piano legs.

Never have lovely ladies looked so awful, not even since they took up slacks.

And now this fabric nightmare is on the way back. A girl who should know tells me:

"The new vogue is no waistline, no bustline, no hips, no nothing—boyish."

Don't do it, lady. Please! For if you do, then men will have to dress like the 1920's, too. Recall a thing called "the cake-eater."

The "cake-eater" wore a jaunty hat, dangling sideburns, a waist-tight coat jacket and a floppy, bell-bottom trousers that were the closest the American male ever came to skirts. Over it all he wrapped a raccoon coat. The result, a vertical caterpillar.

Would you like to have to go out on dates again escorted by something like that, lady? No? Well, save us from your 1920's look—and we'll keep the cake-eater under glass.

AWOL 41 YEARS—Pvt. Ray H. Wheaton, 65, above, turned himself in to the Army at Ft. Lewis, Wash., after being "over the hill" 41 years. Wheaton said he deserted from Newport News, Va., in October, 1908, while waiting transfer to Cuba. He gave himself up because, he said, "I can't stand it anymore." The Army said Wheaton will probably be given an administrative discharge.

Santa Will Live In Uptown Cabin Again This Year

Santa Claus will return to Central Park during the coming holiday season "by popular request."

With Christmas almost two months away, it may be a little early to announce his scheduled visit. But many children have been wondering if Santa will move into his cute little house in the park, as he did last year.

The answer is definitely Yes, according to the Retail Council of the Chamber of Commerce. Santa Claus and his cabin will again be maintained in Central park throughout the holiday season.

Christmas carol music and special Christmas figures will decorate the park. Thirty-six inch silver and green wreaths will be placed on light posts throughout the entire business district.

Santa will be available for personal interviews with the kiddies, just as he was last year.

GRAIN PRICES IN CHICAGO ARE WEAK

Chicago, Oct. 26—(P)—Weakness in soybeans acted as a drag on the rest of the grain market today. Beans fell around 2 cents at times, the major loss being shown by the December delivery.

Other grains did not do much. A mild buying flurry pushed prices ahead around mid-day, but the flurry faded and prices soon slipped back. Volume was much lower than late last week and early this week.

Beans sold off on reports processors had ample supplies, plus a lack of demand from this source. Some traders thought firmness in soybean oil and soybean meal prices would be needed to encourage more buying of soybeans.

Receipts were: wheat 9 cars, corn 204, oats 20, rye 2, barley 7, soybeans 91.

Wheat closed 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher. December $2.14 1/2. Corn was 1/2 lower to 1/4 higher. December $1.18 1/2. Oats were 1-1/2 higher. December 72 1/2. Rye was 1-1/2 lower. December $1.43 1/2.

Soybeans were 15-31 lower. November $2.26-2.28 1/2. Lard was 3 cents lower to 3 cents a hundred pounds higher. November $10.45.

New York Stock Market

New York, Oct. 26—(P)—Numerous key stocks edged up to new highs for the year in a general improved market today.

Gains ranged from fractions to an extreme of around 2 points. Most additions were a point or less.

Volume expanded when prices started to curve upward. Turnover hit a rate of around 1,500,000 shares for the full session.

Corporate bonds moved narrowly.

"Lovely Things for the Home"

Bob Zuppke Inspires Illinois For Big Game

By Charles Chamberlain
Champaign, Ill., Oct. 26 — (P)— Illinois will have a full inspirational shot in the arm for its crucial football game Saturday against Michigan, its most bitter foe.

This one will be for Bob Zuppke, the 70-year-old gridiron wizard whose memory has been etched forever in the game.

Zuppke will be among 71,000 fans watching Saturday. With him will be 29 of his former football captains, one for each of the 29 years he served as Illinois coach beginning in 1913. Red Grange, his most famous pupil, will be there, in the midst of the most imposing of all rooting sections.

Twenty-five years ago on Oct. 18, 1924, when Illinois' Memorial stadium was dedicated, Grange won his plaudits as the "Gallop Ghost" against highly favored Michigan. The redheaded warrior, who conditioned by lugging ice in Wheaton, Ill., during the summers, put on the greatest one man show in football.

Illinois Most Popular Victory
In six times with the ball, he streaked 95, 70.7 and 43 yards to touchdowns—all in the first quarter. Before the game was over, Grange had scored again. He was in only 41 minutes, pounded 402 yards in 21 carries. The final score: Illinois, 39; Michigan, 14.

That was the most popular victory in Illinois' history. There have been other highlights in the long Illinois-Michigan series that started in Detroit in 1898. Zuppke's 1939 team refused to let Michigan's Tom Harmon threaten Grange's memory by contriving a great 16-7 upset.

And in 1946, another inspired Illinois outfit spoiled a Michigan homecoming with a 13-9 surprise that ultimately led to the western conference and Rose Bowl titles.

Michigan has emerged the winner 24 times in 34 games with Illinois. There have been no ties. Under Zuppke, the Illinois captured nine victories over the Wolverines as well as winning or sharing seven conference titles. But in the last nine contests, Illinois has only the 1946 triumph to remember.

Illini Hold Big 10 Lead
Illinois enters Saturday's clash holding the Big 10 lead. Its scouts report that in Michigan it faces a team which has "no apparent weaknesses."

That should bring a wink from Old Zupp, the little Dutch master who now contentedly paints landscapes and tends to his prize hogs on a nearby farm. Somewhere, in the dim past, similar reports pounded into the cocked ear of the man who conceived the screen pass, originated the spiral pass from center and was the first to use the huddle formation for calling plays in 1921.

All seats will be numbered this year and persons purchasing single admission tickets will receive the best seat still available at the time and they will be able to keep that seat for the entire game. This system will allow us to send a block of tickets to the teams that appear in our tournament and in the Regional if we are assigned one this year. Remember the date, November 7, and get a ticket and reserved seat if you desire one.

College Football Enjoys Attendance Boom This Season

New York, Oct. 26 — (P)—Despite television competition and a box office decline in baseball, boxing and horse racing gates, college football continues to enjoy an attendance boom.

Figures for 305 games played by 112 teams, reflect an overall 4 percent increase for the first half of the season. Only in the east is there a drop. The southwest shows a sharp upturn of 29 percent.

Six schools are in the 200,000 class, led by Michigan with 291,717 for three home dates. Increase in the "Wolverines" stadium capacity from 87,039 to 97,239 is the big reason for the Michigan increase.

Ohio State, always a leader, jumped in 219,189 for three games at Columbus and California's golden Bears have been seen by 233,500 in four home appearances.

Stanford's total of 258,000 actually is next to Michigan's but they have played five home games. Southern Cal also is in the select group with 209,005 for four home games.

Miami Will Fete College Gridders

Miami, Fla., Oct. 26 — (P)—A banquet for outstanding college football players from each of the 48 states will be held here next January under sponsorship of Miami Elks lodge.

Howard A. Dodge, chairman of the committee in charge, announced today.

Guests will include players selected from each state plus the University of Miami squad, Dodge said.

The national Elks organization, numbering 1,527 lodges, will support the idea, Dodge reported. He said incorporation papers have been prepared for a non-profit organization known as Association of Nationally Selected All-Americans, Inc., which will direct the dinner.

Someone to Love

By IRENE LONNEN ERNHART Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

XXXIII
JENNY was working at the big flat-topped desk in her office when Nina came in. Nina nung up her coat. "Guess who I ran into during my lunch hour," she said. "Who?" Jenny glanced from the advertising layout she was checking. "Tod."

Jenny seemed to freeze. She bent her head over the papers. "I talked to him for a few minutes."

Jenny looked up again, her face quite controlled. Funny wasn't it, she thought, that his name always made her heart start beating fast. You could discipline your mind, but there wasn't anything you could do about your heart. "How'd he look?"

"Dapper as ever," Nina said brightly. She took a cigarette out of a box on her side of the desk, lit it and sat down.

"What did he have to say?" "Not much. I did most of the talking. I told him about you and Rick. And I was glad to have the chance to tell him. It gave me pleasure to let that heel know that you'd gotten over him completely."

"Did he say anything about Liz?" "About Liz?" Jenny nodded. "I didn't give him a chance to say much of anything, hon," she lied glibly. "I was too busy impressing him with the fact that you're happy now and looking forward to your marriage with Rick."

"He didn't ask about the children either?" "Not a word."

Jenny pushed her work aside. She was glad when Nina left her desk to go out into the shop. She wished all at once that she was going to marry Rick immediately. She was tired of the shop; tired of trying to appear bright and cheerful day after day; tired of going home to the emptiness of the house on Riverdale Road. And it did seem empty, even though the twins filled it with noise and laughter. She was horribly tired, bodily and mentally.

A day or two later she thought she saw Tod, though she couldn't be sure. Her heart had turned over as she caught a glimpse of a tall, broad-shouldered man on the opposite corner from the shop. He had been standing there when she came out, but then he had gone into the drug store before she could take a second look. Of course it wouldn't have been Tod, she thought.

BUT it had been. Several times lately Tod had allowed himself the dubious luxury of spending half his noon hour at the corner opposite the shop, watching for Jenny to come out on her way to lunch. He didn't know why he wanted to do such a thing, but something inside wouldn't let him have any peace until he had seen her.

Even Ma was concerned about him. "I know I'm a bother to you, Tod. But you're all I've got," she said one evening over the meager supper she'd prepared for the two of them.

"You're no bother, Ma. I'm glad I've got you to come home to."

"You know, Tod," she said hesitantly, "while I was in that nursing home, flat on my back thinking maybe I wasn't going to pull through, I did an awful lot of worrying over a lot of different things."

"Yeah, I suppose so."

"I thought about the mistakes I'd made, raisin' Joe and Harriet, and why they turned out bad like they did. And I—well, I thought about Jenny too, and the way I treated her."

"I wouldn't worry about that, Ma," Tod said. He got up to pour their coffee. "It's my fault the way things turned out."

"Well, I don't know," Ma mused as Tod sat down. "When you brought her home, right when you was first married, if me and Har-ret had been decent, like we really should have been—" "No use cryin' over spilt milk, Ma."

He remembered that night, Jenny, her brown eyes eager as she went toward Ma, then the look of hurt surprise on her face. Later in the bedroom she had cried and said they couldn't say there when they weren't wanted. She had loved him then. It made him feel sick inside thinking about it.

MA was still talking while she ate. "We all got lessons to learn, son. Some of us learn 'em early, and some late—too late. I always thought navin' a lot of money was the beginnin' an' end of bein' happy. I reckon it was because we always had such a tough row after Pa died. But now I know better. Havin' someone to love you and care what happens to you, that's the best of livin'."

Yes sir, if you've got that, you can do without the fancy stuff."

Tod stood up suddenly, shoving his plate away. "For goodness sake, Ma!" he cried. "Can't you see I don't want to talk about Jenny?"

"But I wasn't sayin' anything about her."

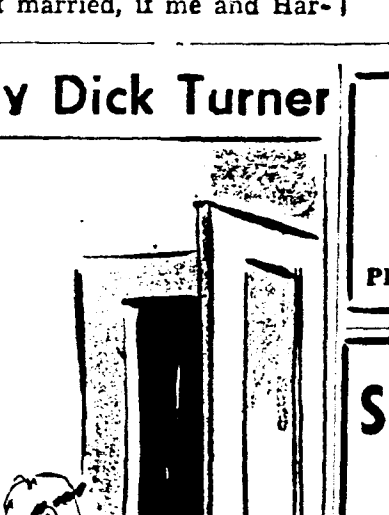

"All I want is peace. A little peace!" He got his hat and went out of the apartment, downstairs to the small bar, and sat there for a while with a drink in front of him. He knew he shouldn't treat Ma that way. She was right. Having someone to love was all that had mattered. But why did she have to harp on it? It was too late now.

All the time he had thought he was in love with Liz. But it hadn't been love at all. Just infatuation. Funny he couldn't have seen that. But then, he wasn't good enough for Jenny anyway. He was a bum. And he had used to think he was a class. Those days when he was a football hero, the big shot of the State University campus and head man on sports pages all across the country, seemed like a dream.

He sat at the bar all evening, watching the television and drinking. It was better than listening to Ma's talk. It kept him from thinking. As long as he could keep from thinking, he was all right.

Brown's College Dinner And Dance Set For Nov. 18

Don Brohan, student at the Hardin Brown's Business college and local radio announcer, has been selected as master of ceremonies for the student alumni association banquet of H. B. C. to be held Nov. 18 at the Dunlap hotel.

The program committee, headed by Gerald L. Cook, president of the student alumni association, and assisted by Don and Bob Brohan, Irene Henry, Virginia Wilding, Peggy Erickson, Russ Davidson and Nancy Dee announce an evening of laughter during which, "A Carnival of Fun" will be presented consisting of six fun-packed acts which will provide guests with something doing, every minute.

The annual student alumni banquet is the highlight in student activities at H. B. C. and is attended by students, alumni and their invited guests.

Letters have been mailed to 961 former students announcing the 1949 banquet. Hundreds of others cannot be contacted because correct addresses are not available. D. L. Hardin, president of the college, wishes to assure all former students that they are welcome. Reservations may be made at the college office.

Following the banquet there will be dancing to the music of Jimmie Conlee and his orchestra.

'Swindlin' Sam' Loses His Poise At Fraud Trial

Chicago, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Sigmund (Sam) Engel, smoothly polite where wealthy widows are concerned, lost his poise today and had to be led from a courtroom, shouting profanities.

"G—d— I'm being framed, I'm being framed," Engel screamed in a tirade after the judge left the bench at the end of today's session of Engel's swindle trial.

The dapper, white-haired 73-year-old Engel is accused of bilking Mrs. Reseda Corrigan of $8,700 in a confidence game.

This afternoon Mrs. Annette Kubiak, South Bend, Ind., widow, testified Engel also swindled her. She said he married her a year ago and disappeared with her $5,000.

After court adjourned, Engel was turned to Lt. James Oakley of the state's attorney's office, in a reference to Mrs. Kubiak's testimony.

"You sound like a putting words in her mouth," Oakley laughed while J. Edward Jones, one of Engel's lawyers, said, "Sam, Sam, be still."

"You're all a bunch of G—d— crooks," Engel shouted back. Still sputtering, he was led away.

Fat Cattle Price Decline Likely, Says Specialist

Urbana—Two marketing specialists in the Illinois College of Agriculture Wednesday warned farmers not to be deceived by current high prices on the fat cattle market.

L. H. Simerl, extension economist, declares that "the fat steer market has worked into a position where another serious price break is not only possible, but probable."

W. J. Willis adds that there is more to the cattle market than the top price. For the week of October 13, top Chicago cattle price was $36.25 a hundredweight, but the average price paid for all steers was only $29.10. About 15 percent of the cattle selling at the higher prices were choice and prime; the rest sold for under $30 a hundred.

Lists Five Reasons

Simerl gives five reasons why he thinks another serious price break is not only possible, but probable. First, the market is seasonally weak because fat steer prices usually work lower from fall to spring. Second, prices now have gone up almost without interruption for nine months, a fairly long period. Third, shipments of feeder cattle into cornbelt states since July have been about one-third larger than they were a year earlier.

Fourth, corn is more plentiful and cheaper than last year. And fifth, supplies of pork after January 1 may be 10 to 15 percent greater than in 1948.

Simerl points out that present high prices and relatively large numbers of cattle on feed make an ideal combination for a market break. Sooner or later marketings of fat cattle will increase, or consumers will ease up on beef purchases and cattle prices will slip a little.

Then the market will be largely in the farmers' own hands. If they try to empty their feed lots quickly, prices could easily fall to the $20 to $23 levels of last January and February, or even lower.

Three Strong Points

But Simerl also sees three strong points in the cattle price picture which were not present last year: First, the general business situation is not expected to weaken as it did last winter. Second, cattle feeders may not get so panicky as they did in early 1949. And, third, any great break in hog prices will likely be checked by government price support operations. This would lend some support to cattle prices.

Willis observes that the recent $37 top paid at Chicago created quite a stir. But this price was paid for only about 1 percent of the cattle on the market. Most good-to-choice-fed steers sold for $28.50 to $35.50, and this probably represents about half the cattle sold on the market.

CIO States Ford Pension Plan OK'd 'Overwhelmingly'

Detroit, Oct. 26.—(AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers tonight announced "overwhelming" membership approval of its history-making pension contract with the Ford Motor Co.

The Rouge count at 8:30 p.m. (CST) stood 20,679 in favor of the proposal and 6,203 against. The union said a complete tabulation probably would not be available before midnight. There were 39,623 ballots cast at the Rouge plant.

Employees Section Of Chest Campaign Outlines Program

Members of the Employees division committee of the Morgan County Community Chest campaign held their first meeting last night at the Dunlap Hotel.

Chairman Harry Hammit and Junior Lukeman presided. The committee heard Dr. Robert Hartman, general chairman of the campaign, outline the general campaign organization and express his confidence that the $45,000 goal for next year would be reached.

During the next few days the employees committee will contact nearly 150 firms, businesses and industries all through the county, which employ 10 or more employees. Employees will be asked to consider gifts to the Community Chest approximating a day's pay, or an hour's pay per month for 12 months, to be paid to the Chest over a period of time beginning Dec. 1, 1949.

In some instances, management will cooperate with the plan by making it possible for their employees to make their gifts through the payroll deduction plan. This will enable employees to make substantial contributions to the rapidly expanding activities of the various Chest agencies.

Members of the committee, in addition to the co-chairmen include Edward G. Bargery, Charles Bayless, Ernest Canuto, John R. Chapman, Frank Corington, Harry Crabtree, Lawrence Crawford, Wilbur Cully, Harry Dowland, James Dunlap, Milton Edge, James Flynn, Jake Fritz, Harvey Green, John Harmon, Ed Jackson, H. A. Drop In Egg Price Expected To Hike Buying By U.S.

Washington, Oct. 26.—(AP)—The current drop in egg prices is expected to enlarge government buying under a price support program designed to assure producers a national average of 90 per cent of parity through 1949.

The support program does not attempt to assure any individual producer, grade or quantity of eggs the support price.

In carrying out the support program, the government does not buy shell eggs, but dried eggs.

It offers processors a price for dried eggs which enables them to pay producers 35 cents a dozen for shell eggs. Processors selling dried eggs to the government must certify that they paid at least that amount.

The current drop in shell egg prices, officials said, should encourage processors to step up their buying and drying of eggs for sale to the government.

Johnson Says Each Of Services Has 'Honorable Role'

New York, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson said tonight that each branch of the armed services has an "honorable role" in our defense setup but it may not always get the role it wants.

Johnson discussed the nation's military strategy in a prepared speech for the third session of the annual New York Herald Tribune forum.

He said this strategy is to build a defense "team of air, sea and ground forces" capable not only of defending the nation against a "Pearl Harbor" but also able to strike the enemy in "deadly counter-attack."

"To effect that strategy," he said, "honorable roles and missions are assigned to each of the three services."

"Each gets the part it is best qualified to do in the judgment of the joint chiefs of staff."

"This of course does not mean that each is directed to do what it would best like to do."

Virginia Legion To Give Annual Dinner Nov. 10

Virginia—Final plans for the annual American Legion Armistice Day dinner have been outlined by the joint committee consisting of Legionnaires and auxiliary members. This annual dinner originated soon after the close of World War I for the purpose of securing a building.
